

Wildlife West Nature Park – Mini Music Festivals - 2013

Bands Legend:

WMJB - Watermelon Mountain Jug Band (Barbara)

WH - WesternHers (Dawn Tarpley)

DMD - Desert Mountain Drifters (Bill Honker)

SH - Steve Hall

NVTT - North Valley Tune Tangles (Mike Gallagher)

DCSC - Duke City Swamp Coolers (Tony Smith)

TR - The Renfrees (Peter Renfree)

01July	15July	29July	12Aug	26Aug	02Sept
WMJB	WMJB	TR	WMJB	WMJB	WMJB
NVTT	WH	SH	WH	DMD	DCSC

4:30P - Top Row

7:00P - Bott Row

BIOS:

The North Valley Tune Tangles

The North Valley Tune Tangles perform a spicy mix of diverse and vibrant tunes and songs from old Appalachia to New Mexico and beyond. They source material from visits with Appalachian old timers, field recordings collected in Mexico, and early commercial recordings of country music and western swing. Each performance also includes music from northern New Mexico, Texas border music, the beautiful twin fiddle harmonies from the Tohono O’odham people of southern Arizona, original songs, and when appropriate, sing-along standards. Based in Albuquerque, the Tangles have satisfied the musical tastes of diverse audiences since 2010. <https://tunetanglers.com/index.html>

The WesternHers

Dawn Tarpley and The WesternHers all-female band bring you the best in classic country tunes: think Ray Price, Patsy Cline and Johnny Cash to name a few)! With Dawn and Tana on lead vocals and guitars, Laura Leach-Devlin on bass/backup vocals, and Kristen Rad on fiddle/backup vocals, the music will take you back to a simpler time, a time of the old favorites. Come out, bring your friends, and listen while these ladies help you create some new memories with treasured songs!

Desert Mountain Drifters

The Drifters play blues, zydeco, rock, and country.

Steve Hall

Local singer and guitarist, Steve Hall plays music featuring a rhythmic finger picking guitar style with elements of pop, folk, country and bluegrass and more. Steve plays pop, folk, country, and bluegrass selections from the 60's, 70s, 80's and 90's with a few contemporary pieces thrown in.

The Renfrees

Husband and wife Ren and Andi Renfree met online in 2003, on a musician's songwriting website. They wrote a lot of songs, between Ren's home state of California and Andi's adopted state of Texas before meeting in person. There was a definite chemistry, from the start, which is immediately evident to all who see them perform together.

Ren moved to Texas in 2004 and they were married in 2005. The duo spent seven years touring as two-thirds of the award-winning Texas folk trio 2-Bit Palomino before leaving Houston and moving to Nashville in 2015 to pursue their passions of Songwriting and Production.

They love to travel and enjoy sharing their heartfelt songs and signature harmonies with audiences in a variety of venues. Their music is a combination of deep, soulful lyrics and fun, bouncy melodies, in the Western & Americana style. <https://renfrees.com/>

Duke City Swamp Coolers

<https://dukecityswampcoolers.com/>